

George Elias Emery

Senior Associate

Tenacious. Methodical. Equitable.

George Elias Emery is a tenacious, methodical, and equitable attorney who brings a coach's mindset to every case he handles. He has a lifelong passion for the English language and initially pursued a path toward becoming a college English professor. That early training strengthened his writing, sharpened his communication, and taught him how to break complex ideas into simple plays that win. Today, he uses those skills to help clients tackle problems they do not want to solve for themselves.

GEORGE APPROACHES LITIGATION LIKE A TRUE COMPETITOR.

George loves to win and treats every matter as game film he can study, learn from, and use to level up his performance. Before joining Stewart Law Group, he defended the federal government in hundreds of Social Security disability cases, handled commercial litigation disputes ranging from trademark infringement to lease negotiations, and managed a general insurance defense practice at a mid-sized regional firm. Every experience helped him build a playbook rooted in discipline, preparation, and strategic execution.

He is also proud of his academic journey. George graduated one spot away from earning Cum Laude honors in law school and still jokes about being bitter about it. Instead of dwelling on it, he channels that competitive fire into relentless advocacy for his clients. Judges, juries, and opposing counsel quickly recognize his ability to frame the issues, control the narrative, and communicate with clarity.

George brings a winning mentality to every field he steps onto. He has negotiated favorable settlements in high stakes commercial and insurance matters, including a multi district litigation involving a 144 vehicle pile up. He has also secured multiple voluntary dismissals after filing targeted motions for summary judgment. George stays focused on one goal: help clients win the tough plays and walk away with the best result possible.

George is known inside the firm for his steady leadership and his ability to stay calm under pressure. Clients often describe him as the teammate who keeps everyone focused on the next play. He studies the details, anticipates the obstacles, and builds strategies that give clients a clear path forward. His approach is grounded in preparation and supported by strong legal writing, which allows him to connect the facts, the law, and the client's goals with precision.

Outside the courtroom, George is committed to continuous growth as both an advocate and a professional. He is passionate about mentorship, collaboration, and strengthening the legal community through thoughtful communication and disciplined work habits. Whether he is sparring ideas with colleagues or helping clients understand their options, George shows up with the same tenacity that drives him in litigation. Every challenge is another chance to compete, improve, and deliver a win for the people who trust him.

EMERY'S BACKGROUND

"George was both strategist and advocate. He anticipated challenges, guided us through every step, and delivered results beyond expectations."

Representative Matters

- Lead counsel for a truck driver for a major motor carrier involved in 144-vehicle multi-district litigation
- Drafted motion for summary judgment in Lanham Act/ Copyright Act case that led to subsequent favorable mediation settlement
- Drafted a successful brief to the United States Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals for the Social Security Administration
- Conducted deposition of slip-and-fall plaintiff that resulted in voluntary dismissal of her claims shortly after
- Conducted mediation of a breach of contract technology case, resulting in a settlement for the total refund of the client's funds paid
- Drafted a no-evidence motion for summary judgment that resulted in no response and voluntary dismissal in a trucking case
- Drafted traditional motion for summary judgment that resulted in no response and voluntary dismissal in a slip-and-fall case
- Represented restaurants and apartments in matters involving premises liability
- Represented various subcontractors and general contractors in construction defect cases involving 10+ parties
- Provided insurance coverage analysis in claims ranging from prison guard malfeasance to banking professional liability
- Obtained a take-nothing judgment in a wrongful eviction case in Harris County, Texas

Awards

- Presidential Scholarship, Texas Wesleyan University School of Law | 2010 - 2013

Bar Admissions

- State Bar of Texas

Education

- Texas Wesleyan University School of Law, now Texas A&M (J.D.)
 - Law Review, Articles Editor
 - Academic Support Teaching Assistant
 - Chair, Student Ambassadors Recruitment Team
- Texas A&M University, Bachelor of Arts, English (B.A.) | 2006

Legal Experience

- Senior Associate, Stewart Law Group PLLC | 2025 - Present
- Associate Attorney, Martin, Disiere, Jefferson, & Wisdom L.L.P | 2022 - 2025
- Associate Attorney, Pollard P.L.L.C. | 2022 - 2022
- Associate Attorney, Hernandez Law Group, P.C. | 2021 - 2020
- Associate Attorney, McCauley Westberg, P.L.L.C. | 2020 - 2020
- Commercial Litigation Associate, Gibson Law Group | 2020 - 2019
- Assistant Regional Counsel, United States Social Security Administration | 2019 - 2015

Associations, Affiliations, and Bar Activities

- Texas Accountants and Lawyers for the Arts | 2013 - 2018